the slightest reason to fell complimented. It is understood that both he and General Bristow will at once assume the

Last week, during the consideration of business from the judiclary committee, the house passed a bill, the title of which was to alter and appoint the times of holding the circuit court of the United States for the fourth judicial circuit. The title of the bill gave no idea of its essence and it was passed without attracting any notice. General Buller reported the bill, and it is now said that he reported it on his own motion and without any authority frow the committee to do so. The point of the bill is that it repeals all acts conferring circuit court powers on the district judges in the fourth judicial cir-cuit. This circuit comprises the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina. Mr. Hugh S.

Bond is the circuit judge. Among the circuit judges powers now vesting in the district judges is the power to try certain cases arising out of the enforcement act. This power was con-ferred at the instance of Mr. Kellogg when he was a member of the senate, and it is through its exercise by the United States district judge, Durell, of Louisians, came excited at this and jumped up and requested Mr. Butler to make a motion that the senate be requested to return the bill, which he subsequently did in the house, and the bill was returned.

The house discussed and passed the bill to-day in relation to the proceedings in the courts of Utah. The bill in effect de-

High Time in the French Assembly on the Election Bill. GAMBETTA ON THE BON-APARTISTS.

GREAT BRITAIN. London, June 3.—In the house of com-mons to-night the usual motion was made to adjourn over on Derby day. Sir Wil-fred Lawson opposed the adjournment. but the motion was carried by a vote of 243 to 60. George Anderson, the member for Glasgow, called attention to the losses of British subjects through the escape of the Alabams and other causes. He com-plained of the high-handed manner in justice of the court of claims. Judge Edmunds, chairman of the committee, who which the late government had prevented a timely criticism of the treaty of Washsome days ago personally remonstrated with the presidents gainst the nomination, showed the least pessible interest in its fate. Objectitions to Mr. Richardson were at once made by a number of senators, and it was stated that his legal atington. There were three classes of British subjects who deserved compensation. First, residents in the southern confederacy who lost their property through the inability of the United States to enforce the laws, second, those tainments were of such a poor order that it would be ridiculous to place him on the bench. Some of the New England senswhose property was destroyed after Lee's surrender; third, the owners of goods on board of the prizes of the confederate cruisers. He believed the Unsted States were willing to recognize these claims.

Mr. Anderson then moved that, in the opinion of the house, it is wrong that in-dividuals should suffer loss through a national wrong; that, as England has been adjudicated at fault in permitting the es-cape of the Alabama, and has compensated the Americans for losses incurred thereby, similar compensation is due to British sufferers from the same causes.

Mr. Burke, the under secretary for foreign department, replying, declined to enter upon the discussion of the merits of the treaty of Washington. The joint high commissioners had decided that the United States government was not res-possible for the acts of recess. possible for the acts of rebels. As that government had agreed to appoint a commission to examine the claim for losses arising after Lee's surrender, he hoped the subject before the house would not be pressed. The motion was then rejected,

To ALL, particularly invalids, spring is a trying season. Indications of sickness should at once be attended to. Fatal diseases may be eaused by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and the system to remain in a disordered condition, until the disorder has time to develop itself. An ounce of preyention is worth a pound of cure, is an old and truthful saying. Therefore, we advise all who are troubled with the complaints now very prevalent - headache, indigestion, disordered liver, want of appetite, nausea, or feverish skin, to take, without delay, Schenek's Mandrake Pills. We know of no remedy so harmless and decisive in its action. It at once strikes at the root of the disease and produces a healthy tone to the system. People need never suffer from any disease arising from a disordered condition of the liver if they would take this excellent medicine when they feel the first indications of the malady. Families leaving home for the summer months should take three or four boxes of these pills with them. They have an almost instantaneous effect. They will relieve the patient of headache in one or two hours, and will rapidly cleanse the liver of surrounding bile, and will effected by all druggists. 96-4-80-1m-and

Butler hung his head and made no reply. The upshot of the whole matter was that the committee goods. These cigars have a wide-spread reputatian as being as good as any ever offered in this market, and the figures at which they are sold are sure to attract attention. He invites an examination of his goods and prices, and warrants what he sells to be just what he represents them to be or money refunded. 49-5-19-12t
